DUCOM Site Fair

Allegheny Health Network

Pittsburgh Regional Campus

AHN

Meet the AHN Deans

James B Reilly, MD, MS, FACP

Regional Associate Dean
Senior Vice President, Academic Affairs
DIO, Graduate Medical Education AHN
james.b.reilly@ahn.org

Mary Lynn Sealey, MD, FACP

Regional Assistant Dean of Clinical Education
Core Faculty, AHN Internal Medicine Residency
MaryLynn.Sealey@ahn.org

Tajh Ferguson, MD

Associate DIO for Diversity, Equity and Inclusion
Core Faculty, AHN OB/GYN
Tajh.Ferguson@ahn.org

AHN at a Glance

- 14 hospital academic medical system (29 PA counties, regions in Ohio, WV & NY)
- AGH – Flagship Hospital; 5 tertiary-care hospitals, five community hospitals and four neighborhood hospitals
- 5 Health and Wellness Pavilions housing cancer clinics, surgical centers, outpatient clinics, and primary are locations and over 250 clinical rotations
- The health system includes the AHN Research Institute, Allegheny Clinic, Home Health and infusion agency, LifeFlight, Center of Surgical Arts, and the STAR (Simulation, Teaching, and Academic Research) Center
- 50 Graduate Medical Education Resident and Fellowship Programs is home to more than 560 trainees

Volume & Clinical Scope

AHN as a network

- 2500 staffed beds
- 120,000+ inpatient discharges/observations annually
- 1.32 million outpatient registrations per year
- 280,000 emergency (ED) visits per year
- 8,400+ births/deliveries annually

Allegheny General and West Penn Hospitals

Allegheny General - Level 1 Trauma Center

AGH was the first medical center in the state to open a trauma ICU for 24-hour intensive medical care in neaurotrauma care, orthopaedic, cardiothoracic, oral surgery, plastic surgery and other subspecialties

576-bed teaching & quaternary care center

56,000 ER visits - $43 million dollar modernization in

ER 24,000 annual admissions

23,000 surgeries annually

Level 3 Neonatal intensive care unit at West Penn Hospital

West Penn Hospital is a top-ranked OB-GYN in care by US World News

West Penn Hospital reports 4000 deliveries annually

Why it is great to train at AHN

- High patient volume + case diversity – trainees can expect exposure to broad pathologies, acuity levels, ad population health
- Exposure to both community and quaternary care settings – Trainees can appreciate different care environments (community hospital vs academic quaternary referral center), understand referral patterns, and get varied clinical experience.
- Strong educational structure and mentorship– Large GME program, simulation & surgical skills training, and research opportunities.
- Comprehensive, integrated health-system experience– Inpatient, outpatient, surgery centers, cancer care, home health, population health, wellness centers – which all reflect modern healthcare delivery and gives trainees familiarity with continuity of care across all settings

Clinical Programs

AHN offers clinical rotations in every medical specialty, prioritizing medical education through our institute model

- Anesthesiology
- Cancer
- Cardiovascular
- Emergency Services
- Imaging
- Medicine
- Neuroscience
- Nursing
- Orthopaedic
- Pathology
- Primary Care
- Psychiatry and Behavioral Health
- Surgery
- Women's

Our Strategy and Mission for Medical Education at Allegheny Health Network

- We provide exceptional clinical training with an emphasis on patient-centered, value-based care
- We facilitate systems-based training to emphasize interdisciplinary collaboration and patient/population outcomes
- We maintain a Clinical Learning Environment conducive to trainees' individual well-being and personal development
- We promote the development of a pipeline of innovative physicians who are well-prepared to practice independently in the rapidly-evolving, value-driven healthcare system of tomorrow

Graduate Medical Education at AHN

- Top largest GME organization in Pennsylvania and top 15% nationally
- More than 560 trainees across 50 specialty and subspecialty programs across 4 AHN teaching hospitals (AGH, WPH, Forbes and St Vincent)

Affiliated Locations

AHN Hospital Locations where Drexel Students come to work and learn:

- Allegheny General Hospital (main campus)
- Forbes Regional Hospital (Family Medicine, In-patient Psych) (17mi from main campus)
- West Penn Hospital (Internal Medicine, Radiology, Ambulatory, OBGyn, Surgery, Peds) (4 mi)

Housing in Pittsburgh

REGIONAL MEDICAL CAMPUS HOUSING

Many students are fortunate to have family & friends in the area and 'come home' for their clerkships

HOUSING/RENT (as of late 2025)

Average rent for apartments in Pittsburgh is around $1000 -$1379/month for one bedroom (apartments.com)

For 2-bedroom units, average rent is $1300 - $1600/month (apartments.com)

Apartments vary widely depending on neighborhood and size - studios and smaller units tend to be cheaper; larger or newer apartments command higher rents (HomeBuyers of Pittsburgh)

Overall, rental costs in Pittsburgh tend to be lower than in many large US cities. (apartments.com)

The Pittsburgh region has a number of neighborhoods and suburbs considered relatively safe and "affordable and livable"

HOUSING FOR ROTATORS

Rotators often take advantage of the housing available at the on-campus dorms at West Penn Hospital. The fourth floor is dedicated for UME students forDrexel, LECOM, and outside rotators. The West Penn Campus is about 5 miles away from the main campus at Allegheny General Hospital. Parking and Public transportation is offered on both campuses.

Our Religious Communities

Many religious places of worship surround the Pittsburgh neighborhoods, to include:

- Anglican Church
- Baptist
- Buddhist
- Episcopal Church
- Greek Orthodox
- Hinduism
- Islamic
- Jewish
- Lutheran
- Non-Denomination
- Presbyterian
- Roman Catholic

A City FULL of Amenities for you…

Pittsburgh offers a great variety of places to eat, explore and study

Pittsburgh is widely recognized as a foodie city:

·Federal Galley · Modern Café · Tessaro's · Bae Bae's Café · The Vandal · Fig & Ash · Adda Coffee & Tea · Mezza Luna Cafe· Yinz Coffee · City Works · Constellation Coffee, and many, many others notable places

No matter your artistic style, Pittsburgh has something for you

·Phipps Conservatory · The Andy Warhol Museum · Pittsburgh Ballet Theater · Randyland · August Wilson· The Carnegie Museum of Art · The Benedum Center · Moonshot Museum, and many other coollplaces

Our parks offer settings of great beauty and serenity that are the perfect study environment

· Riverview Park · August Wilson Park · Point State Park · Allegheny Riverfront Park · Friendship Park · Grandview Park· Allegheny County North and South Parks

Wellbeing at AHN is top priority. Students will have free 24/7 access to the on-campus gyms at Allegheny General and West Penn Hospitals

https://www.visitpittsburgh.com/

[AHN You Belong Video]

AHN Student Affairs

Denise Wisniewski
Student Affairs Coordinator
412.359.4335
Denise.Wisniewski@ahn.org

Pam Kozlowski
Director, Academic Affairs
412.359.4552
Pamelasue.Kozlowski@ahn.org